

Ray L. Brownfield Honored at 2012 ASFMRA Annual Meeting

Denver, CO (November 6, 2012) – The American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers (ASFMRA) recognized Ray L. Brownfield, AFM, ARA, ALC with the 2012 D. Howard Doane Award during the 2012 ASFMRA Annual Meeting in Indianapolis, Indiana, held October 29 – November 2, 2012.

The prestigious D. Howard Doane Award is held in great esteem by the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers. It is given annually to a member or non-member who has demonstrated such qualities and outstanding contributions in the field of agriculture with emphasis on farm management and rural appraisal.

Ray currently manages properties through his sole ownership of Land Pro, LLC, and is also a real estate broker at John Greene Land Company, both in Oswego, Illinois.

D. Howard Doane was one of the most influential agriculturalists of his time (1883-1984), and was one of the founding members of ASFMRA. His philosophy: “Do it honestly. Do it right. You can’t go very far wrong if you follow that.”
